Friday February 3, 2023

Consider signing up for an agriculture class for the 2023-2024 school year. Lots of good things happening in every class. We have drones to fly, robotic gardens to tend to, and fish to feed. Classes are hands-on. You will get to have a say in the project topics you work on. You will complete daily activities with a partner or team most days and on some days you will work individually. There are blended days, guest speakers and field trips throughout each course. You will learn about the animals and plants and how they are grown for food, fiber and fuel while taking care of the environment, using modern technology and good business practices. See the Program of Students, your counselor or Ms. Lemmer for more details.
